

You wouldn't buy a car without test driving it first.
Why should your hearing aids be any different?

WE MAKE IT EASY

I want to tell you about a unique program we're offering at Audiology and Hearing Service that lets you take home hearing aids to wear in your everyday life before you commit to buying them.

No waiting – On the same day you come in to see me, you will walk out of your appointment with hearing aids to try out, for free, in your daily life.

No guesswork – You get to experience how well the hearing aids work in the listening environments where you actually spend time. The hearing aids automatically keep track of how they are performing in these environments, so we can sit down together after your trial to make sure the hearing aids you choose will work well in your actual lifestyle.

No cost – You're probably wondering how much all of this costs. The answer is absolutely nothing. There is no deposit, nothing to worry about and never any obligation to buy.

Experiencing is believing

We are committed to finding the right hearing solution for each of our patients. We know that buying hearing aids is a big decision and choosing the right one can seem daunting. That's why we're offering you the one-of-a-kind Flex:trial™ program, so you can feel completely confident in your choice. It is our goal to help you hear better, and this is the program to get you started.

Special Test Drive Event: Thursday, September 20th
